PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—With a reverberating crash, the Rankin bridge at suburban West Braddock collapsed today, injuring three persons.

The work cars of the Pittsburgh
Railways and a motor truck slid downward with the falling structure
and fell to the railroad tracks beneath the bridge.

The crash could be heard throughout the district. The bridge collapsed in the middle.

Fire trucks, police and ambulances were rushed to the scene as the alarm of the bridge's falling spread.
Hundreds of people gathered at the scene. Scores aided in rescue work.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Although there are still 19 days
until Christmas, today is actually St. Nicholas' Day. Nicholas was the patron saint of thieves, virgins,
sailors, and children, and was a bishop about 300 A. D. He owes his reputation as Santa Claus to the fact that he wished to protect three daughters of a nobleman, who had no money for their dowries and was about to drive them into the street.
St. Nicholas, passing the house in darkness, threw a bag of gold into an open window on three successive nights, furnishing dowries which enabled the father to obtain husbands for each. From this the tradition of making St. Nicholas' festival
a gift-day grew, and in time the custom was transferred in some countries to Christmas.

Near summer temperatures were noted Tuesday, but this morning,
it had started to cool off considerably.
The weather a year ago was very similar, the maximum for several days being just under the 60 mark,
and then it got quite wintry.

The new Gunton park on the north side will make a fine site for small picnic outings next summer.

Police officers could take a stroll
up North Mill street now and then in the late afternoon, and tag some of the cars that drivers carelessly
leave parked so that street car traffic is held up. Frequently it is necessary for patrons of the street
cars to get out and push a car off
the path of a street car.

Another downtown store room on Washington street that has been vacant for months is soon to be occupied. Washington street is occupied a fine comeback these days.

There was a red lantern hanging to a post at the intersection of North and Neshannock avenues last night, but the lantern was unlighted.

A lot of rabbits evidently escaped
the hunters in Lawrence county

New York's Welcome For Liquor Return Falls Rather "Flat"

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Old man prohibition, who had a tough life for 13 years, lay buried today gently and casually.

Everybody thought Broadway and round-the-town would draw and quarter the old gentleman and cast
his remains into a sea of legal liquor.
But his passing here was toasted mostly with bootleg liquor and the crowds which swarmed through the white light district did more window-shopping than drinking.

Legal Stuff Held Up.
The failure of New Yorkers to dance and be jubilant over the new state of affairs was partially attributed to the fact that most of the legal whisky and imported liquor
were unreleased from bonded warehouses and piers.
It will pour forth from the official

President Appeals For Temperance In Repeal Proclamation

(WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—An appeal to the nation for temperance
and an end to lawless drinking,
stood today as President Roosevelt's formal proclamation of prohibition repeal.

Mr. Roosevelt's pronouncement
was made necessary by provisions of the recovery act. It brought automatic repeal of certain taxes imposed by the special session of congress. The proclamation was not necessary to make national repeal of the dry law effective. That was accomplished an hour before
the president acted, when acting Secretary of State Phillips proclaimed ratification of the twenty-
first amendment by the thirty-sixth state, Utah.

The presidential proclamation
was framed as a request "to every individual and every family in our nation . . ." for real observance of the law. The executive asked the people to buy only liquor carrying a

DEATH VERDICT IN SCOTTSBORO CASE ONCE MORE

(International News Service)
DECATUR, Ala., Dec. 6.—For the eighth time since, on a blustery day
of late March 1931, two soot-blackened mill girls tumbled from a freight train into the arms of a sheriff's posse to hurl the charge of mass-attack at nine negro hoboes,
an Alabama jury today called for death in the tempestuous Scottsboro
case.

A verdict of guilty, returned by the jury of Tennessee Valley river
men after three days deliberation
doomed Clarence Norris to die in the electric chair.

Work Projects Are Outlined In County Schools

Many Needed Projects Will Be Placed Before CWA
For Approval

SCHOOLS ARE HARD PRESSED FOR MONEY

Quite a number of school projects
in the rural section of the county
are being outlined by County Superintendent John C. Sylling and the district boards for the approval of Civilian Works Administrator Louis
B. Round, it was stated today by Mr. Sylling.

One project has already been started under the CWA, the grading of the Union township athletic field.
Construction of sidewalks near the school has also been projected by the Union township board.

Would Raze Buildings.
One of the biggest projects which has been broached among the county schools is the razing of the two old school buildings at Burnstown,
and removal of the same to the El-port grounds, where they would be constructed into a more modern building of two rooms. One of these buildings is a two-story, two-room

Liquor Return Not Celebrated

Pennsylvania Greets Demise
Of National Prohibition
Very Quietly

MOST OF LIQUOR HELD UNDER LOCK

(Elevated to a new social standard
during his 14 years in exile, John Barleycorn was back in Pennsylvania today.

He returned last night expecting rousing cheers and wild demonstrations. Instead celebrations in his honor were in the majority of cases
nothing better than complete "flops".
Inhabitants of the commonwealth
that approved his return by more than a three-to-one vote displayed
delight at his return, but their attitude was a warning that he must be good to continue his reign of supremacy in the Keystone State.

Liquor Locked Up
When Utah cast the ballot that sent prohibition into oblivion, Pennsylvania's good liquor was locked behind the doors of bonded warehouses. Alcoholic beverages of varying qualities, ranging from pre-war
"stuff" to the products of bootleggers, were available, but the stocks
were meager.

The good "hard likker" for which the commonwealth has been waiting 14 years did not come until today. Then it met the restrictions embodied in control acts recently passed by the General Assembly.

Only about 1,800 establishments have secured licenses to make sales.

Until the dawn of 1934 all liquor
must be sold at licensed hotels, restaurants, clubs, in dining cars and steamboats. Sunday sales are taboo and the old-fashioned bar, except for clubs, is prohibited.

Coal Men Assemble To Hear Relief Chairman Outline Bidding Plan

As the outcome of a conference
this morning at the Y. M. C. A. with Dr. G. S. Bennett, chairman of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board, over 60 coal dealers of the county, pencils in hand, were hurriedly figuring out bids today for the relief coal business on a new basis officially established throughout the nation by the federal government.

Dr. Bennett and Wilson Hall, the relief board's executive director,
spent an hour in outlining to the assembled coal men the detailed bidding procedure which has been set up.

It was declared by Dr. Bennett that no relief coal deliveries could be made in Lawrence county until the new contract awards are announced later this week at Harrisburg. No inconvenience, however, is expected to be occasioned by the temporary shut-off.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon the coal men's bids will be opened in the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board office, North Mill street, in the presence of board representatives and a committee representing the coal men. The board will select the lowest few and wire
them to Harrisburg, where the state
relief board will officially award
the contracts.

Dr. Bennett told the coal men this morning that, from all indications,
the county board would be expected to deliver probably 3,000 tons or more to families dependent on the board during December.

Today's bids will cover only the remaining December period. On December 20, it was announced, the coal men will be required to have their bids for January.

NATAL, Brazil, Dec. 6.—
Completing their second
joint trans-Atlantic flight,
Col. and Mrs. Charles A.
Lindbergh arrived here today from Bathurst, Gambia, British West Africa.

The Lindberghs completed their daring venture at 12:55 p. m. E. S. T.

Col. Lindbergh circled the harbor and brought his plane down on the surface of the Potengi river while thousands gathered along the waterfront cheered and waved Brazilian and American flags.

Landings immediately put out
from shore to take the famous airman and his wife to land.

They completed the 1,850 miles
separating Africa from South America in fast time, and thus climaxed
a careful and comprehensive survey
of ocean air routes and terminals
which previously had taken them
across the North Atlantic ocean by way of Greenland, Iceland, the Faroe and Shetland Islands.

It was Col. Lindbergh's third flight across the ocean expanses, and in some respects the least hazard-

Soldier Bonus Bills Awaiting Pinchot's Action

(HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—Two soldier bonus bills and the Zimmermann bill rounding out the administration's liquor program were placed on Gov. Gifford Pinchot's desk today.

Shortly after the senate passed
the three measures by a unanimous 47 to 0 vote, the house gave concurrence to minor amendments and sent the documents to the executive chamber. It is expected all will be signed by the governor.

The Myers bonus bills authorize payments of $10 for each month of service up to 20 months to all veterans of the Spanish-American war, Boxer rebellion, Guam and Philippine insurrections and the World war. They specifically prohibit payments to draft dodgers and conscientious objectors even though
such persons may have given military service later.

Two Trainmen Are Killed In Virginia Wreck

ACCIDENT OCCURS NEAR QUANTICO, VA.

The dead are Engineer E. W. Kuhn and Fireman W. H. Jordan, both of Richmond. There were no injuries to passengers.

A landslide near a trestle caused the freight engine to overturn, bruising Engineer E. B. Winfree and causing internal injuries to Fireman B. E. Mitchell, both of Richmond. The engine fell upon adjoining tracks. Before the northbound train could be notified, it had plowed into the wrecked freight.

Four empty passenger coaches were overturned. Cars carrying the passengers remained upright.

during the recent hunting season, if the number seen scampering across the highways in front of approaching autos can be taken as a criterion.

J. Audley Boak, state game master, who has just returned from a trip to the Pacific coast, reports that he encountered excellent weather clear across the continent and back. Never did the temperature get below freezing, he said.

Here and there about the city some landscaping is noted, especially in the transplanting of large trees.

And by the way, the trees on the "Road to Remembrance" along the Perry highway are doing fine. In a few years these trees will be a notable feature of the landscaping.

I. R. Gibson, M. Frazier, G. Boalick, Charles Roeder, Frank Roeder and John Ingham have returned from Clearfield county, where they spent several days hunting. They got no deer but I. R. Gibson shot a bob-cat, weighing 22 pounds. The government pays a bounty of $15 for these cats.

Not all of the hunters coming back from the big game country are bringing back bucks. One hunter told Pa. News that he counted 18 does during his visit to the big woods and never got sight of a buck that could even be shot at.

Highland avenue hill from Grant street to Wallace avenue is getting rougher and rougher. It is in need of some sort of resurfacing or some attention. Especially is the street car right of way becoming rougher.

From Youngsville, Pa., today comes the report that Joe Natale has bagged an 8-point buck weighing 80 pounds. Mr. Natale started for the woods shortly after 4 p. m. Monday. He sat on a log for about 45 minutes until the large buck came down a path. Two bullets felled him.

THREE INJURED IN CRASH OF BRIDGE NEAR PITTSBURGH

One was reported to be suffering from a broken leg. Their names were not available at the hospital.

Trucks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad were completely blocked when the portion of the bridge ramp sagged and hurled the cars, one loaded with gravel and another with sand, to the tracks below. Trains on the line were delayed while wrecking crews were hurried to the scene to clean up the debris.

No cause for the accident could be immediately ascertained. The bridge connects Rankin and Whitaker, two suburbs.

Collapse Is Described.

Charles Hammers of Swissvale described the bridge collapse: "I had stopped near the Rankin police station while driving my car to wait for a green light. I started when the green light flashed and was within a few feet of the bridge when it began going down.

"A street car and several automobiles were on the main section of the bridge. It sank slowly like an elevator. Flashes of fire were caused by the bridge coming in contact with high tension wires. The cars fell about 25 feet to the tracks below.

"I sped back to the Rankin police station and told them to send ambulances."

Saw Trucks Fall.

Louis Rosenberg, a Pittsburgher, was another eye witness.

"Just as we were on the ramp approaching, the bridge collapsed and brick and wires seemed to be falling," he said. "I saw only one truck on the section of the bridge that went down. The bridge fell about 20 feet and the truck went with it. There was a railway work car on the bridge, too, and a sand car, and both of them flopped over on their sides as the bridge went down."

Dr. Dodds May Be Candidate For Governor

DR. HAROLD W. DODDS

Possibilities of Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of Princeton University, of being a candidate for the late Woodrow Wilson are suggested by recent news from New Jersey. Friends are urging his candidacy for governor of New Jersey on the Republican ticket.

Dr. Dodds is a graduate of Grove City College where his father was a professor and is well known to many Lawrence County graduates of that institution. He is one of the younger presidents of large universities in the country but has had a brilliant career in both the educational and governmental fields.

Woodrow Wilson went from the presidency of Princeton to the governorship of New Jersey and later to the presidency of the United States. Will Dodds do the same thing is the question his friends are asking now.

as yet. Half a dozen or more are known but the percentage is low when the number of beer retailers is considered. The number of applicants for retail liquor licenses seems to be in inverse ratio to the number who are applying for jobs in the state liquor stores, and that my friend is plenty.

With the repeal of prohibition the question has been raised as to cases now before the grand jury for prosecution in which violations of the liquor laws are charged. In some quarters it is argued that there is no law to sentence them, while other attorneys argue that the repeal of prohibition does not mitigate the guilt of persons violating the law before repeal. In the meantime cases are going to the Grand Jury and if true bills are found the prosecution will continue.

Secures An Office On Flip Of Coin

Prothonotary Campbell Decides Tie Between Anthony Pepe And D. M. Baird

The flip of a coin by Prothonotary Ralph Campbell today decided a tie vote between Anthony Pepe and D. M. Baird for the assessorship of Mahoning township. Pepe won.

Each had received 328 votes for the office of assessor. The usual procedure in such cases is for the tie to be decided by the election boards immediately after the election. The law says that when there is a tie the inspectors are to cast lots in the presence of the judges and clerks.

There are three election districts in Mahoning township and the boards neglected to take care of the tie when the consolidated vote was cast up.

In the absence of precedent it was agreed between the contestants that Campbell should flip a coin to determine the matter. As the coin was flipped Pepe called "head" and became assessor. Baird congratulated him, and both left the office fully satisfied.

PRESIDENT APPEALS FOR TEMPERANCE IN PROCLAMATION

government stamp. Conformance, he declared, would end the evils of bootlegging and its accompanying rackets.

Opening paragraphs of the document went into the details of technicalities involved in repeal, both of prohibition and of the taxes which will soon be ended as a result of executive action. The president followed with his appeal for real observance of the new laws. He said:

Seeks Respect For Law

"I enjoin upon all citizens of the United States and upon others resident within the jurisdiction thereof, to cooperate with the government in its endeavor to restore greater respect for law and order by continuing such purchases of alcoholic beverages as they may make solely to those dealers or agencies which have been duly licensed by state or federal license."

Observance of this request, which I make personally to every individual and every family in our nation, will result in the consumption of alcoholic beverages which have passed federal inspection, in the break-up and eventual destruction of the notoriously evil illicit liquor traffic, and in the payment of reasonable taxes for the support of government and thereby in the superseding of other forms of 'taxation.'

"I call specific attention to the authority given by the 21st amendment to the government to prohibit transportation or importation of intoxicating liquors into any state in violation of the laws of such state."

Asks Co-Operation

"I ask the wholehearted cooperation of all our citizens to the end that this return of individual freedom shall not be accompanied by the repugnant conditions that obtained prior to the adoption of the 18th amendment and those that have existed since its adoption. Failure to do this honestly and courageously will be a living reproach to us all."

"I ask especially that no state shall by law or otherwise authorize the return of the saloon either in its old form or in some modern guise."

"The policy of the government will be to see to it that the social and political evils that have existed in the pre-prohibition era shall not be revived nor permitted again to exist. We must remove forever from our midst the menace of the bootlegger and such others as would profit at the expense of good government, law and order."

"I trust in the good sense of the American people that they will not bring upon themselves the curse of excessive use of intoxicating liquors, to the detriment of health, morals and social integrity."

"The objective we seek through a national policy is the education of every citizen towards a greater temperance throughout the nation."

Assailants Nabbed Quickly After Crime

Half an hour after two men are alleged to have shot and wounded a gas station attendant at Asbury Chapel, near Erie, yesterday, they were taken into custody at Linesville by a state highway patrolman, according to a state police teletype message to the police here today.

COL. LINDBERGH AND WIFE LAND AT NATAL, BRAZIL

mileage of his history-making flight from New York to Paris in 1927. The flight from Bathurst to Natal took 15 hours and 53 minutes. They left the West African port at 9:02 p. m. E. S. T. last night.

Aiding in the venture by turning in a job of wireless operating throughout the long journey that excited the admiration of veteran radio men, Mrs. Lindbergh earned the distinction of being the first woman to fly the Atlantic over its southerly route.

Good Weather.

The flight from Bathurst was the longest overwater jump of the Lindberghs' prolonged aerial tour. More or less fair weather, however, generally prevails over the South Atlantic, while their northern crossing by way of the Arctic was every moment a battle with frigid gales and fog.

This meant an average of approximately 115 miles an hour for the entire distance—a remarkable pace in view of the fact that Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh encountered frequent squalls and patches of poor visibility during certain stages of the journey.

Head Across Atlantic

Natal, Brazil, Dec. 6.—Encountering frequent but not serious squalls, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh piloted their large seaplane westward across the South Atlantic ocean today, heading for Natal from Bathurst, Gambia, British West Africa.

Mrs. Lindbergh, the former Anne Morrow, acting as navigator and radio operator, was playing as important a role in the long, 1800-mile hop as was her famous husband. She charted a true course for the monoplane, and at regular intervals tapped out veteran-like radio signals informing the world of their progress.

In addition, Mrs. Lindbergh sought the distinction of being the first woman to fly across the South Atlantic.

Typical of the messages tapped out during the night by Mrs. Lindbergh was the one received giving their position at 5:00 a. m. (3:00 a. m. E. S. T.). It read:

"Position: Latitude 5° 15' north, longitude 23° 40' west. Course 224 degrees true. Nine-tenths overcast at 1500 feet. Frequent squalls, visibility unlimited outside. Sea calm. Wind zero. Altitude 1,000 feet."

Weather Favorable

The weather throughout northern Brazil was favorable, cloudless skies being reported in all localities.

Mrs. Lindbergh tapped out messages of progress regularly every fifteen minutes, and on the half hour gave their position. Her messages came through unusually clearly and rapidly.

The messages, although addressed directly to the Pan-American Airways station at Rio de Janeiro were picked up by all Brazilian radio stations at the order of the federal government in order to aid the flight.

A great public welcome was planned here under the direction of the governor of Natal, who expected to make the Lindberghs his official guests. The public began crowding about the probable landing places early in the day, and all preparations had been made to receive the American couple as early as 9:00 a. m. (7:00 a. m. E. S. T.).

Do Night Flying

Timing their hop to land here in the morning, the Lindberghs were forced to spend most of their flying through night skies. Col. Lindbergh was believed to have done this so he would have daylight for landing in the unfamiliar harbor of Natal. Night flying, however, held no terrors for either of the famous flying couple.

At 7:00 a. m. (5:00 a. m. E. S. T.) Mrs. Lindbergh changed her radio wave length to one used during daylight hours indicating they had ended their night flying by this time.

In starting for Natal the Lindberghs began the homeward leg of a flight which began in New York last July 9, on reaching here they were to have completed 18,000 miles of flying during the elapsed six months.

And what does the youthful owner of fifty million unearned dollars think about when he sees a man who has worked hard all his life standing in a breadline?

This morning-after period has shattered many idols, and now it comes out that the Coolidge idea of thrift was a 65-cent cigar.

funnel today but the froth of the victory has sparked out. Nobody wants to celebrate a funeral after the victim is dead and buried.

Not only was the occasion Broadway's biggest flop but it turned out to be one night in 13 years wherein it was difficult to obtain a drink of any sort of liquor.

"Speaks" Close Up.

The majority of speakies closed up. Some remained open for known customers only. Others tapered off by auctioning their wares to old patrons or selling their wet stuff to hotels.

What night life there was centered largely in hotels where the pre-repudiated custom of flask toting was still in evidence.

The most excitement along Broadway occurred when a liquor truck attempted to unload its supplies to a restaurant. A mob nearly overturned the truck, which finally escaped without attempting to unload.

One department store managed to open up its liquor department a few minutes after the flash from Utah signified final ratification but the difficulty in handling the crowd forced the establishment to close down.

MAN CONFESSES KILLING WOMAN

Edward Webber, the woman, had apparently been knocked unconscious as she sat in the dining room of her home in the rear of her store. A gas was placed in her mouth and the body dragged to the cellar where it was hidden behind several large boxes.

Webber advanced the theory the aged woman may have been killed during an attempted robbery.

The detective said Law had been questioned at the East Deer township police station and that he had admitted the slaying.

Although the slaying occurred yesterday afternoon, the body was not discovered until a daughter, Helen, 22, returned to the home last night.

MEMBERSHIP TEA DELIGHTFUL EVENT

About a hundred members of the junior and senior Hadassah joined in the annual membership tea Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. E. Kaplan, North Mercer street, with Mrs. L. F. Lohm, senior president, presiding.

Miss Mary Pittler extended greetings from the juniors and reports were heard of the various activities of the committees, after which business was hurried over for the program of the evening.

A most clever sketch "Aunt Frances Rises in Defense" was given by the juniors, with Misses Tillie and Rose Solomon, Roslyn Saffier and Anne Shiffman taking part.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Myrtle Marcus Fisher of Pittsburgh, an enthusiastic Hadassah worker, who has recently returned from a nine month tour around the world. She took the women on a most interesting trip with her, stopping in Palestine, she gave a vivid picture of Jerusalem, creating a most graphic picture of the great contrast between the new Jerusalem, with its modern growth, and the old Jerusalem, telling how one steps in to a different atmosphere when one steps through the gate from the new to the old city.

She spoke most inspiringly of the work of Hadassah in Palestine, telling of the hospitalization which guards the health of the Palestinians, the milk stations, where children are nourished and the various other activities which are sponsored by the women of America who belong to Hadassah.

She was so filled with enthusiasm for Palestine that, as she talked her enthusiasm overflowed to her hearers and each and every woman was loathe to have her come to the end of her talk.

At the close of Mrs. Fisher's talk, a period of group singing was entered into, with Mrs. William Aptaker leading the songs which were written by Mrs. M. Schoenberger, Mrs. Charles Levine was at the piano.

Dainty refreshments were served from a handsomely appointed tea table in the dining room of the home, the hostesses being Mrs. L. Zeeve, Mrs. William Blau, Mrs. M. Davis, Mrs. J. Cukerbaum, Mrs. D. Silverman, Mrs. Sam Wolfe, Mrs. J. Raffel, Mrs. M. Frank, Mrs. H. Abkowitz, Mrs. M. Schoenberger, Mrs. Herman Wolfe, Bessemer; Mrs. Lawrence Marks, Mrs. Harry Newman, Mrs. I. At the appointed time Old Saint Nick, garbed in winter togs with white chin whiskers in no other form than Lloyd Wimer, appeared on the scene with a huge basket of gifts, which were distributed to the class associates.

The serving of tempting refreshments by the hostesses concluded the evening. The menu and decorations were carried out in keeping with the Yuletide season, and Mrs. Eleanor Patterson assisted.

A program carried out in every detail with the "Dutch" idea was presented. Miss Vivian Jones gave a "Dutch Reading" followed with several selections by the German band. This comprised Clarence Lennig, Bill McCormick, Tom Cramer, Elmer Gorman and Billy McKnight, who performed to perfection, imitating the old band of Germany. Readings were given by Miss Twila Barber as the next feature and a trombone solo by Tom Cramer with Miss Jane Bryan accompanying, followed. The latter gave a piano solo. Pleasing selections by the "girls trio," including Virginia Roberts, Cecelia Hasulak and Ruth Wilkison, concluded the entertainment.

The evening was brought to a close with the serving of typical Dutch lunch by the girls of the class dressed in quaint costumes of Holland.

A short business session featured the evening, at which time officers were named: Mrs. Rees T. Williams, president; Miss Elizabeth Reese, vice president; Miss Hanna Richards, treasurer; Miss Melvina Davies, secretary, and Mrs. Joseph Leyde, reporter.

Business laid aside, a Christmas party was enjoyed, with the class members exchanging gifts. Later they were invited to the dining room where refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. L. J. Davies; her sister, Mrs. Roy Nelson, and Anna May Smith.

Mrs. Miffin Miller and Mrs. Joseph Leyde will gather the papers the class has been saving, on Wednesday, December 13.

The balance of the program was turned over to Miss Sylvia Martin, chairman. She presented youngsters from Pollock avenue school who gave the following features: a reading "The Girl and Her Stomach" by Clara Lamorella; vocal solo, entitled "In The Valley Of The Moon" and "Little Bobbie Shafter" by Josephine Maccell accompanied by Phyllis Merand; recitation, "Red Head" by Robert Williams; solo dance by Amelia Augustine and the concluding number was a tune on the harmonica by Steve Naples.

The next meeting of the club will be held in two weeks. This will be in the form of a Christmas gathering.

MRS. WILLIAM MILSON HONORED AT SHOWER

A pretty party of last evening was the kitchen shower tendered Mrs. William Milson, nee Olive Fulkerson, at the home of Mrs. Stanley McFadden on Garfield avenue.

Bridge formed the pastime of the leisure period, and lovely prizes were awarded to Mrs. Genevieve May and Miss Margaret Vogan at conclusion of play.

At an appropriate time, the honored guest, whose marriage was recently announced to a circle of intimate friends, was presented with a collection of many gifts to use in her new home. The serving of a dainty lunch by the hostess at a table beautifully decorated in yellow and white mums by the hostess, brought the occasion to a close.

OLD MOTHER NATURE

Seems to me it's about time somebody told the truth about Mother Nature, that old creature everybody praises too fully, as if she were a gentle old creature putting in her garden and giving pennies to the neighbor children.

Perhaps she is like that, but I have my doubts.

Personally, I think she has a mean and treacherous streak in her. My idea is that she's more like the stepmother in "Snow White" and the "Dwarfs" than like any nice old grandmother in a garden.

Of course I'll admit she has her good points. She furnishes us with splendid sunsets and charming dawns. And her twinkling stars are nice, indeed. And so are all the little yellow flowers that blossom in the spring. And her lucious melons and peaches and cool mountain streams and waving fields of grain and all that sort of thing are excellent advertisements for old Mother Nature. But think of the flies that get into the cupboard and think of the bee stings and all the sharp teeth and poisonous claws and the inconvenient rainfalls and the snow that gets down your neck and the frosty mornings and the slippery banana peels and millions of other traps and annoyances she compounds for the unwary mortal—and you will agree that old Mother Nature has indeed more than a touch of malice in her disposition.

And take the farmer, too. Above all mortals, he ought to know. He's the one who has deliberately taken up with, gone into partnership with Mother Nature. And what does HE get out of it? Work all day and all night. And gets his wheat beaten down by the hail or burnt up by the sun. And gets aphids on his apples and silene on his lettuce and blight on his pears and rust on his wheat, too, if he does escape the hail and the heat. She won't pay the interest on his mortgage or even his taxes. She blames him, to be sure, by arguing that the country life is the best life, and a man's free and happy with a bit of brown earth and a cottage. But I'm thinking, from what I've seen and not from what I read in the poets, that a farmer might better go into partnership with a saber-toothed tiger than tie himself up for life with old Mother Nature and expect a peaceful old age.

And I could go on and I could say a lot more, but I'm thinking I'd better be stopping because old Mother Nature has big ears—and I wouldn't be wanting to get in her bad grace. (So I'm asking you would you please be most discreet and not repeat what I've been saying about her.)

MIGHT DOESN'T MAKE RIGHT

Too many persons think that to be positive in their assertions is to strengthen their stand or position. They feel that they must be forceful in denunciation of what they do not believe, and vigorously argumentative in presenting their opinions.

They resort to pounding a table, raising their voices to high pitch. Thus they succeed in rousing themselves to an angry point.

But nothing convincing is gained by such tactics, is there?

They may cause another person to withdraw or acquiesce.

But such quiet submission is not indicative of approval or acceptance.

People are not won over by strong language.

You will defeat your purpose by using the strong arm method.

To answer an assertion by calling it silly, announcing that you are surprised that they do not display better judgment, is not satisfying argument.

You might be called silly yourself if some folk were not afraid to say what they really think.

Don't forget that good sense is possessed by many, not just a few.

You might be surprised if you know how many people consider your opinions lacking in a good, sensible foundation.

WORK AND PLEASURE

Let's put it this way: Golf is only good

When men close office doors a round to play.

All pleasure, if 'tis rightly understood.

Needs work behind it or it fades away.

Nor dance nor song nor symphonies sublime

Can keep man happy for too long a time.

Ask men who have no work what joy they find

Rising at dawn to barren idleness?

What sweet delight can give them peace of mind

Or pour a soothing balm on their distress?

Ere one can find much pleasure in his play

He must have work from which to get away.

'Tis toil that makes men happy! Nothing less

Than irksome duty, with its stern command!

The strike and constant struggle for success

Forever at the side of pleasure stand.

Who would enjoy vacations now and then

Must know he soon shall be at work again.

Symposium Of Editorial Views By Newspapers Of Nations On Important Subjects As Edited By Consolidated Press AssociationLynching To Punish Crime
Arouses National DiscussionQuestion Of Justification Viewed From Many Standpoints
In Connection With Kidnapings

The kidnaping evil will not be cured by the substitution of lynch law for the orderly processes of the courts, in the opinion of the press. Report to lawlessness is held to do little except breed further lawlessness, despite the recognition of a widespread lack of confidence in speedy justice.

In the words of the SAN JOSE MERCURY HERALD: "We have a more serious crime problem than other civilized countries because we bring to bear on it nothing but passing emotions. We rail at the inefficiency of our police departments and prosecutors, at the waste of time, trials, at the release of dangerous criminals after they are convicted, forgetting that it is our responsibility to see that laws are passed providing for an efficient, up-to-date law enforcement organization and proper prison administration. We are reminded time and again that we are using the antiquated system of our pioneer fathers, and yet do nothing about it. It is time to be indignant at ourselves because we use our emotions on these questions when we should use our intelligence. We have been going on the theory that this gigantic industrial society science has built up would automatically run itself. The alarming crime situation should make us realize that it will crash on the rocks unless we get more intelligent thinking and less blind emotion into our affairs."

The ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS declares that "if the law is to be respected, it must be respected by the public even when it is violated by criminals," and the BALTIMORE SUN says that "if the brutality of a crime is to be accounted sufficient excuse for mob murder, then we might as well give up courts, police, and all attempts at law enforcement in respect to crime properly defined as brutal." The same paper adds, "We might as well turn back to private disposition the very sort of offenses for which, it has been supposed, public authority was organized."

Nevertheless, the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN is convinced that "there will be law-abiding, law-loving people all over the country, sincere and honest in their protest against lynch law, who will confess a feeling that these San Jose kidnapers, guilty of one of the most atrocious murders as a sequel to their kidnaping, got what they deserved," and the OSHKOSH DAILY NORTHWESTERN predicts that "the method used at least should serve to put more fear into the hearts and minds of the lawless elements that have been preying upon society for a long time."

On the other hand, it is the opinion of the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL that "the way to right one evil is not by the perpetration of another evil, and we shall never get at the right solution of the kidnaping or the crime of assault, or the problem in this country by matching violence against violence." Even more emphatic is the COLUMBIA RECORD, which calls the lynching "unnecessary" and remarks that the victims "are no longer new than they would have been." The only difference, as this paper sees it, is that "California now has its murders going about business as usual. San Jose, safe and untroubled, instead of having merely two who were to die for 'their crime'."

THE YOUNGSTOWN DAILY VINDICATOR calls attention to the fact that "in the present temper of the public they could be sure that Edgars and Thurmond would pay for their crimes; they were not out to see that justice was done where it would otherwise be denied, but to give free play to the bloodthirsty instincts that always lurk beneath the surface of the mob." That paper adds that "the worst of these crimes is the effect they have on those who participate in them and upon others in whom they encourage defiance, not only of one law but of all." Taking issue with this statement, the SCRANTON TIMES predicts that "criminals in California contemplating kidnapings will think twice after what happened to the slayers of Brooke Hart," and the ESCANABA DAILY PRESS and the NEW CASTLE NEWS echo that statement. While agreeing that "kidnaping must be suppressed," the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS believes "the recrudescence of mob violence is fraught with peril as great as that of kidnaping."

"It is not a question of the kidnapers deserving their fate, but the preservation of law and order," comments the NEW YORK SUN, while the GARY POST-TRIBUNE warns that "the guilt of the next man lynched may not be so certain as in this case, but mob law will not stop to inquire into that phase of the situation." The HARTFORD DAILY TIMES is convinced that "the prevalence of lynching, in many a state, during the years gone by, was a far worse evil and far greater menace to the welfare of communities than has been the recent wave of kidnaping in the United States."

While deploring mob law, the Goshen Daily News-Times considers that the time has come "to recognize the factors which have brought about a condition in which lynching is no longer inexcusable. The remedy is quicker and more certain justice in the courts," continues this paper.

"In all probability," remarks the ALTOONA MIRROR "the unconscionable delay of the law in meting out punishment had considerable to do with the lynching of these two (Continued On Page Six)

The World
AND THE Mud Puddles

O, THESE RELATIONS! When Tennyson lived at Freshwater, in the Isle of Wight, he had two sisters of the poet Shelley for his neighbors.

In the late '50s and early '60s no one quite knew who the Misses Shelly of Freshwater were.

Tennyson himself did not identify them as sisters of the poet until one day, at a vicarage party, the conversation turned to the subject of poetry.

Said the elder Miss Shelly: "I once had a brother who wrote immoral poetry. But I am thankful to say I never read any of it." And for the first time Freshwater knew who the Misses Shelly were.

Some of the guests at the tea party thought the relationship slightly shocking.

Reading The Skies—Every sun spot is a huge magnet. (This was discovered by Dr. George E. Hale.) The polarities of a pair of spots are always opposite. If the eastern spot of a pair has a northward polarity, so will it be with eastern spots of other pairs in northern solar hemisphere.

In southern hemisphere corresponding spots will have a southern magnetic polarity. When a new cycle of sun spots occurs, the polarities are all reversed. Way this is, no one knows; but there is no doubt of tremendous influences exerted on earth by sun spots.

Neighbors Born This Date—In 1807 Konrad Kozmowski, born 1857 in Ukraine of Polish parents, he became a sea captain, a British subject, a famous novelist under the name of John Conrad. His first book, "Amateur's Folly," was published when he was 38. "Warren Hastings, b. 1732, poor-born Briton who as governor-general extended his king's Indian empire, made a fortune for himself spent his fortune in defending himself against corruption charges in a historic 7-year trial before Parliament; was exonerated, ruined and pensioned in the traditional British manner. "Gen. George Monk o. 1608, follower of Cromwell who quickly upset his master's work after the latter's death, restored Britain's monarchy, was rewarded with a dukedom. (A Duke, however, credits D'Artagnan and two of Three Musketeers with enabling Monk to restore Charles II to throne. "Rev. Richard H. Barham, b. 1786 who as Thomas Ingholdsby, Esq., wrote classic, "Innocent by Legends." "Joseph Gay-Lussac, o. 1778, great French physicist and chemist. "Loup Kroll, b. 1884, artist. "Osbert Sitwell, b. 1892, playwright.

1732—"Broadway" was born. First play known to have been performed by professional players, was given at "New" theater, New York City. It was George Farquhar's comedy, "The Recruiting Officer."

1745—The first "Black Friday" ever since a symbol of financial market calamity, was precipitated when news reached London's Threadneedle St. that the "Young Pretender" (not deposed Stuart family) had landed to try to recover the throne. (Notable U. S. Black Friday: Sept. 24, 1869, when reckless speculation in gold created a Wall St. panic.)

1847—Abraham Lincoln first cast his shadow upon the Capitol; he entered Congress as an obscure representative from Illinois, aged 38.

In The "Good Old Days"—In England in the middle ages it was customary for a boy in each bishopric to be elected bishop on St. Nicholas' Day to serve with jurisdiction until Dec. 29. The practice was suppressed in 1542, but lingered on for some time thereafter.

Firemen's Funds Now To Be Paid

Council Orders $11,407.52
Divided Between Two Organizations

City council has ordered paid by the city treasurer to the Firemen's Relief association of New Castle and the Firemen's Beneficiary association of this city, $11,407.52. The money will be divided equally as will $6,035.54, still due the organizations.

When the checks reach the officials of the two organizations the controversy which raged for years will have been settled.

The money is received by the treasurer from the state from monies derived from the tax on foreign fire insurance premiums here.

The treasurer has yet to receive sums from the state for the years 1931, 32 and 33, it is reported.

On Court House Hill

Sheriff Frank Johnston has received the auto licenses for 1934. The licenses bear the numbers, P-461 and P-462. Sheriff Johnston will have the tags attached to the cars, all ready for the in-coming sheriff.

County Commissioners receive all kinds of inquiries. This morning a farmer called the office and wanted to know where he should pay the processing tax on pork. He had killed a hog, and had read in the papers that the slaughter of a hog, who proposes to sell any of it in the city, must pay a processing tax.

He wanted to make a few pounds of sausage and sell it to buy groceries, but he didn't want to serve any time in jail for failure to pay it. They suggested that he take the matter up with the internal revenue department. Meanwhile the sausage may get old. It's a hard life, that of the farmer.

It is one thing to get elected to an office and quite another thing to decide who the appointing assistants are going to be, as a number of recently elected officers are discovering. There are always a dozen times as many applicants as there are positions and the new sheriff, district attorney and register and recorder are now faced with the task of making appointments.

Sheriff-Elect Edward D. Pritchard is now making his selection of the three deputies which the office has, but has made no statement that would indicate just who the appointees would be. As in the other offices, the appointments are being made for him freely by the boys in the back room but these appointments never seem to hold.

Mr. Pritchard has a long list of applicants for the three deputyships. The names carried in this article are only a part of the list, and the only reason more weren't run is because the names were not available. Among the men suggested by the volunteers are those of Jess Duford, Benjamin Hartland, John Jones, Arthur Lusk, Bernard Hook, Joseph Dukes and Joseph Hartland. From Ellwood City comes the names of Connie Wardman and Harry Donaldson, and Bessemer's candidate seems to be Chief of Police Archie Shoup. Sheriff Frank Johnston is named by some as a possibility as are present deputies Andrew

One Sure Way To End Coughs and Colds

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion. (adv.)

It is the belief of the PORT-WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM that "the people of the United States are long over-due in speaking their public minds on the subject of law enforcement," and the Star-Telegram adds that "it should be made to register—in some forceful fashion—that escape from the courtrooms will be denied unquestionably guilty murderers, robbers-with-firearms, kidnapers, and rapists." The AKRON BEACON JOURNAL, too, feels that "public resentment against crimes of violence whose ruthlessness has a climax in the abduction and killing of the San Jose youth is admittedly running at high tide," but doubts whether the nation would go as far as did Governor Rolph.

The DAN-BURY NEWS-TIMES is certain that "the San Jose affair and the reaction to it throughout the country helps to establish that the public demands the death penalty for kidnapping."

Van Dyke Asks For Impeachment Of Three Judges

Would Have Governor Pin-
chot Impeach Judges
Found On J. P.
Morgan List

CLOUD CAST ON JUDICIAL BODY

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—Warren Van Dyke, Democratic state chairman, moved today for the impeachment of one state superior court and two supreme court justices whose names appeared on "preferred lists"
of the J. P. Morgan & Co.

Van Dyke requested Gov. Gifford
Pinchot, who previously demanded resignations of the justices, that the legislative proclamation be amended
so that "the matter of impeachment
of these justices" may be properly considered.

His action was directed at Supreme Court Justice John W. Kephart and William I. Schaffer, and Superior Court Judge Thomas J.
Baldrige.

"The cloud of suspicion cast over our highest judicial bodies as a result of the testimony given before a United States senatorial investigating committee must be removed at once," the Democratic leader asserted.

Van Dyke also urged Governor Pinchot to recommend legislation to bring about "speedy and sharp revisions of all unreasonable utility rates."

Salient Facts On Legal Liquor

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—Pennsylvanians obtained liquor in this manner today:

Hotels, restaurants, dining cars and steamboats holding licenses were permitted to begin sales at seven a. m. and continue business until two a.
m. tomorrow morning.

Individual drinks and bottled liquor will be purchased from these places until January 2, when state stores open.
After that date all bottled liquor must be purchased at the state dispensaries.

Clubs may serve liquor over bars 24 hours a day except Sundays.

All liquor manufactured or imported into Pennsylvania
before the new year will be subject to a $2 per proof gallon tax.

Holders of 3.2 per cent beer
licenses may sell malt beverages regardless of their alcoholic content.

OTHER NEW BILLS ARE INTRODUCED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—Aiming to prevent future outbreaks such as occurred recently at Eastern Penitentiary, Senator Samuel W. Salus, Philadelphia, today had a bill before the Senate authorizing a new state prison for criminals convicted of crimes of violence in this state.

The bill appropriates $5,000,000
for construction of the new penitentiary. Convict labor would be used for as much of the work as possible.

"My purpose is to prevent such outbreaks as those at Eastern Penitentiary recently," Salus said.
"Those outbreaks were caused by hardened criminals serving time for crimes of violence."

Many New Bills
Other new bills in the Senate included six Harris measures amending various election laws, permitting establishment of schools for instruction of election officials, and providing for payment of fees with the filing of nomination papers by candidates.

Senator Henry L. Snyder, Lehigh, introduced a bill setting up a state
board of housing to create "authorities" in municipalities desiring to eliminate slum districts.

Alexander spent $118 in being elect-

the first full day of lawful liquor
in nearly 14 years.

Over 700 retail liquor licenses were issued by the liquor control board
during the mad eleventh-hour scramble which preceded the final death knell to prohibition and it was late at night before the waiting line
began to dwindle.

The board emphasized as it resumed its job today that it is prepared to continue issuing licenses
at whatever pace applicants may set.

No provision is made in state regulatory laws for sale or distribution of beverage liquor by wholesale druggists in Pennsylvania, the board ruled.

After state stores begin operating on January 2, druggists must buy their liquor from the state and may dispense it only on prescription.
Unless used for mixing preparations
unfit to drink, the prescription liquor is taxable at $2 per gallon until January 2. There is to be no tax on liquor handled through the stores.

MORE WORKMEN START ON JOBS

The New Castle school district making application for a number of projects the Administrator, L. B. Round expressed his approval of their ideas. "That's the kind of co-operation we need," said he. "We need projects to put men to work and I can see nothing wrong with any of the projects suggested by the school board. They would provide work, accomplish some real good for the school district and save the taxpayer from spending the money.
I hope they get their requests in early."

For some reason many of the townships seem cold to the idea of getting work done by the CWA.
There are probably scores of projects large and small in the townships of the county that could be done by CWA labor but the supervisors seem to be passing up the opportunity. It is hoped that they will rise to the occasion and suggest projects, and that school districts will do likewise.

A number of school districts have already done so, among them Eli-wood City, Union township, Shenango township and perhaps one or two others. New Castle is expected to make formal request for projects shortly.

THIRTY EIGHT ARRESTS MADE THIS MONTH

Thirty-eight arrests have been made since December 1 by city police, according to the police docket.
A considerable number of them
faced charges of breaking auto
rules.

You can say this for the depression: it helps the big business man
to get his mind off his chronic slice.

New Divisions For U. S. Steel

Plans Being Made To Recast
Subsidiary Divisions Of Corporation

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—In accordance with a program of decentralization, the U. S. Steel Corp.
is planning to recast its subsidiaries
along geographical lines, abandoning the present division, which is on the basis of products, it was learned in informed quarters today.
The plan, which may be carried forward step by step, would provide for the formation of five or six new subsidiaries, each of which would take over all the plants of the corporation in its region. Thus, a new Pittsburgh subsidiary would absorb the plants and activities in the region of the Carnegie Steel Co., the American Sheet and Tin Plate Co.,
the National Tube Co., and the American Bridge Co., all of which are operating subsidiaries of U. S.
Steel.

Boys Play Hide And Seek With Police

Officers Called Several Times
To Lincoln Avenue
Section

Boys who caused disturbances
near The Cathedral, Lincoln avenue, last night were playing hide
and seek with the city police.
Police made three trips to that vicinity in an effort to apprehend youngsters who were described on the police report as "bad boys."
While the police cars were busy in the Lincoln avenue section some boys in County Line street were reported as being "bad" and other police were detailed to that section.
They were not the only calls answered as police were also sent to Florence avenue vicinity, it having been reported that two men were quarrelling.

Coast Doctor Found Slain

Dr. Dewey Wightman, 43, Of Los Angeles, Found Slain, In Palatial Home

WIFE-CHILDREN NOT AWAKENED

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6.—Clubbed over the head and shot, the body of Dr. Dewey Wightman, 43, wealthy and socially prominent physician, was found today in a bedroom of his palatial home overlooking Silver Lake, confronting police with what they said was a baffling murder mystery.

A small rifle apparently the death instrument, lay beside the physician's body. The stock of the rifle was smashed.

Detectives said Dr. Wightman had been struck over the head repeatedly with the rifle stock and then had been shot.

The officers said they found evidence that a terrific struggle had preceded the murder.

The doctor's beautiful young red-headed widow, Mrs. Josephine Wightman, formerly a nurse, said neither she nor their children had been awakened by any noise.

A new trial was also refused in the case of Gus Palegore who had been convicted on a charge of arson. This case was submitted on briefs.

Legislators Plunge Into Social Measures Before Sessions

OLD AGE PENSION BILLS PENDING

By G. EVERETTE DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—Virtually finished with liquor legislation, the general assembly plunged into social measures today with crammed calendars indicative of the desire to clear their desks before Christmas and go home.

Although by no means solidified on any straight course of action to achieve early adjournment, members were prepared to act finally on old age pension, minimum wage and maximum hours bills in the house and soldiers bonus legislation in the senate. The bonus bills have passed the house.

Old Age Pensions.
Two sets of old age pension systems were before the house, both having been advanced to final reading after Gov. Gifford Pinchot delivered his second message to the lawmakers urging again that they adopt his multi-sided program, particularly the social bills.

The administration backed measures, sponsored by Rep. Arnold M. Blumberg, Philadelphia, earmark $6,000,000 annually from state liquor stores profits to pay pensions to indigent persons over 70 years of age. Amendments to the Peters bill have cut the age limit to 65 years, making its first appearance on calendar, the Lose bill appropriating $1,310,000 for blind persons was before the house for advancement.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

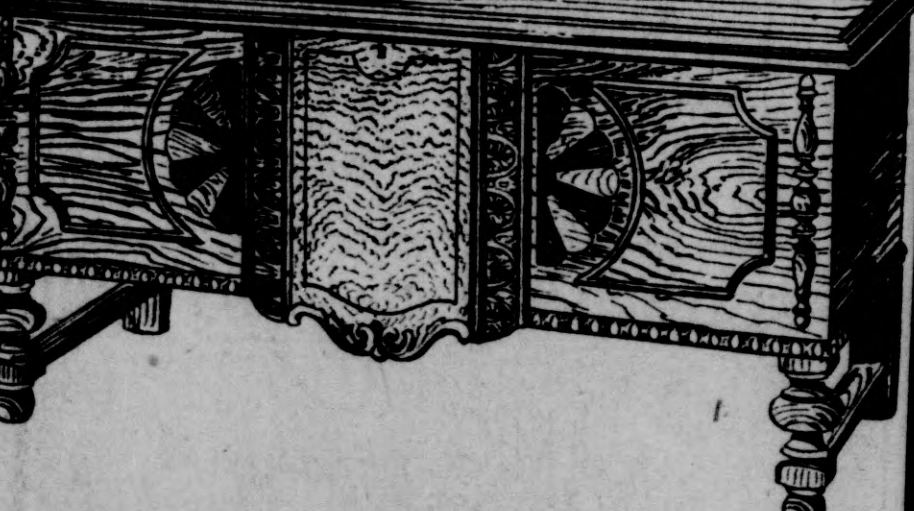

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them, 15c, 30c, 60c.

AROUND CITY HALL

Apparently the boys in the numbers racket are not as cunning as the boys in some other rackets as one of the "runners," a Martin Hall, colored, failed last night on a charge of "suspicion," proved too slow for the police and they got his book.

He said he works for a Youngstown man, to which the mayor said: "Tell the gentleman we do not like interstate commerce in the numbers racket and it won't be healthy for him if any of my police meet up with him."

And then the mayor had the "runners" detail how the numbers were worked. He was especially interested in the "boxed numbers" and one word drew on another until the mayor had a lot of information about the racket after which Hall was discharged.

While speaking of the numbers racket, it was worked today in full view of city hall officials and citizens, but it was a different kind of numbers racket. J. L. Mosely, the distinguished gentleman of the engineer's department, worked the numbers.

As persons appeared to make objection to Fourth ward triennial assessments he handed them a number showing the turn in which they would be heard. But the difference between Hall and Mosely is that Mosely didn't charge for the numbers and paid out no premiums.

W. A. Boston operates a store at Walnut and Court streets and he displayed some cold meat, bacon, butter and other foodstuffs in the window last night. When he visited the store later he found it missing. Someone broke a front pane of glass and stole the food.

Liquor became legal to sell yesterday but none of the places here had it for sale last night and up to noon today had none, but this did not prevent three persons from partaking of some of the illicit stuff.

One of them was a woman. She told the mayor that a friend had given her a pint but she had become intoxicated on wine. "You got a good start but I did not know any places here had received their licenses yet," said the mayor, after which he discharged her. It was her first visit to the station.

The city is enriched three dollars today owing to a trio of persons having disobeyed the traffic rules of the city yesterday. All of them were fined one dollar each. Very few of traffic violators are being excused without paying for their violations.

It is quite apparent that a considerable number of property owners of the city lost valuable time waiting at for hours in city hall waiting for the triennial assessments as reports collected from various channels in the municipal building say that the changes made following the board of appeals sessions are practically nil.

The board, which is composed of councilmen, gave plain indication at their initial meeting that the assessors had cut the assessments about 10 per cent but that the assessors chief goal was not a big reduction but rather, equalization. Not all of the property owners from all wards have been heard. The Fourth ward was heard today. The Seventh comes Friday.

John Barleycorn has made a comeback. He's in condition, rarin' to go places and do things and if performances augur for the future, and they do generally, John is scheduled for plenty of activity. Should his comeback result locally in an increase in arrests it may come to pass that more police and a patrol wagon will be needed.

In the old days it was not uncommon to see a score or more charged with having been intoxicated, come from city hall jail for hearing before the mayor. In those days traffic had not yet tapped the strength of the police department and the police department had a patrol. Nowadays traffic draws police away from other duties and the patrol is a sign carrier.

For years the city endeavored to make an arrangement with surrounding townships and boroughs whereby they could have the services of the local firemen and apparatus. No agreement ever materialized. Things will be different next year.

According to city councilmen monies derived from the tax on fire insurance premiums will be allotted to boroughs a 1 townships and they will have to take care of their own fire protection or put through plans for their protection.

State Dispensary Is Not Wanted In Charleroi, Penna.

(International News Service)
CHARLEROI, Pa., Dec. 6.—Licensed liquor retailers of Charleroi are prepared to combat any efforts to "foist" a state store dispensary on the town, it was intimated today.

Dealers in Charleroi's neighboring municipalities, namely Monessen, Monongahela, California and others, are reported campaigning to have the state liquor board appoint the town as the site for one of its stores.

Their consensus was that "Charleroi for years has been a center of trade."

Local retailers however, say the McClure bill in its present state would mean serious competition to them, and for that reason are adverse to setting up of a wholesale house in their midst.

Warning Sounded On Liquor Taxed
Every Bottle Of Liquor In State Must Be Stamped Or Labelled

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—Warning that every bottle of liquor in Pennsylvania must be stamped or labelled, Secretary of Revenue Leon D. Metzger today had pointed out that both the buyer and the seller of liquors are liable to prosecution if the tax laws are violated.

"Under the liquor floor tax and permanent tax laws," Metzger said, "every gallon of liquor or wine and beverage alcohol consumed in Pennsylvania until January 1, is subject to a tax at the rate of $2 a gallon. The new tax laws make both buyer and seller liable to prosecution if the tax is not paid."

NO ROAMING OF DRUNKS ON STREETS

T. J. Lockrowig Is Found Dead Along Road Here

Physician Says Stroke Was Cause Of Local Man's Death Early This Morning

NO SIGN OF FOUL PLAY OR VIOLENCE

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 6.—Thomas John Lockrowig, aged 67, of North Sewickley, was found dead along the Frisco-North Sewickley Pinchot road about 6:40 this morning, under peculiar circumstances.

The body was found in a sitting position on a bank near the home of Howard Wolfe, by Elmer Moyer, a milk man. The Derry Porter ambulance was immediately summoned, who in turn notified local police. The body was taken to the office of a local physician who stated that death was due to a stroke. There was no sign of foul play or violence. The man was believed to have been dead about 20 minutes upon being brought to the physician's office.

An investigation by local police revealed that the dead man had been on his way to work at the local Tube Mill. He had walked about 400 yards from his home and evidently sat down to wait for someone to pick him up in a car, when he was overcome.

Mr. Lockrowig has been in the employ of the local National Tube Company for the past 25 years. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, one son, and one step-daughter and step-son. Funeral services are incomplete as yet and will be announced later.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

The General Assembly is to be congratulated for its prompt enactment of liquor control legislation. Before it adjourned last week it had passed finally the basic laws of the Pennsylvania liquor control plan. These important laws were passed in the period from November 13 to November 29. To the best of my knowledge that is a record for prompt, decisive action by any Pennsylvania General Assembly.

All Pennsylvania prohibition laws were based on the Eighteenth amendment, and when the Eighteenth amendment was repealed all Pennsylvania control also lapsed.

Therefore, new control legislation simply had to be enacted before December 5. It is to the everlasting credit of the members of both house and senate that they rose to the occasion.

As a result of the haste with which the bills were amended and re-amended and finally passed, there are undoubtedly some imperfections.

As I said when I signed the principal control bill, there are many matters in it which did not meet my views. The worst provision, of course, is that it permits clubs to serve liquor over bars.

Nevertheless, every principle of sound legislation and control contained in the bill as first introduced is still in it.

So, I think, the legislature, sincere and sincere drys, and the people of Pennsylvania as a whole, are entitled to congratulate themselves on a great achievement.

In the last analysis only experience will prove whether or not this control plan is thoroughly satisfactory. I believe it is the best yet devised. At least it is an honest effort of sincere drys and sincere wets working together to prevent every preventable evil of the liquor traffic.

Pennsylvania's liquor control measure is the result of men and women of good will, wets and drys, working together to keep to a minimum the evils of the liquor traffic. The Pennsylvania plan establishes a state monopoly of the sale of liquor through stores under the control of the Liquor Control Board.

These state stores will sell to private individuals and to hotels, clubs, restaurants, railroad dining cars and steamships which will be licensed to sell liquor by the drink.

Of course, the board will have broad power over the licensing of these establishments.

Because it will be physically impossible to get liquor stores into operation before the first of the year, hotels and restaurants will be licensed to sell liquor in bottles until that time.

The Pennsylvania plan will keep liquor out of politics. Employees of the state stores will be chosen through competitive examinations. The person receiving the highest mark will be appointed first, the second, second, and so on. No political sponsorship of any kind is involved in the appointments or the taking of examinations.

The bootlegger will be put out of business. The state stores will be able to sell liquor at prices even lower than the prevailing depression bootlegging prices. I am convinced that if bootlegging is made unprofitable bootlegging will disappear. When crime does not pay it ceases to exist.

The legislature has yet to dispose of the problem of spending the new revenue from liquor taxation and from the profits of the state stores. I have recommended that this money be used to help meet the cost of unemployment relief; to make old age assistance payments; and to relieve school districts in which the schools are in danger of being closed.

I have every confidence that the legislature will follow those recommendations and that, in so doing, they will have the hearty support of the people of Pennsylvania.

I am sure that only those selfishly interested in making money out of the liquor traffic will oppose our system which takes so much money out of the pockets of the whiskey dealers and uses it to meet society's responsibilities to the unfortunate.

Y. W. C. A. CLASS ASKS FOR DONATION OF OLD STRINGED INSTRUMENTS

The mandolin and guitar class of the Y. W. C. A. is issuing a call for donations of old mandolins, guitars or ukuleles. The stringed instruments will be used by boys and girls who have none of their own but have the ambition to study music. The instruments donated to the Y. W. C. A. will not be presented to the young musicians until they have learned to play them.

Mrs. S. J. Calahan, teacher of the class, states that the mandolins, guitars or ukuleles will be appreciated no matter what condition they are in, just so that the "cases" are intact.

The bootlegger is in a spot. If he expects his whiskey to compete with the legal product he'll be compelled to put whiskey in it.

More Claims For Damages Are Made

Improvement Of Highways Cost County $9,259.75 For Damages This Year

County Commissioners were called to the West Pittsburgh road Tuesday to investigate two claims for damages. The commissioners supposed that everything had been settled on this road, but it appears not.

When the road was first suggested property holders along the route were very anxious to have it built, and many signed up releasing all damages, but since its completion, there have been a number of claims for damages filed.

Some of those who filed sustained a certain amount of damage, but in a majority of cases the amount asked have been considered exorbitant. Some of the claims have been settled after viewings had been selected and their testimony taken. Others are still pending.

Their experience on the West Pittsburgh road has confirmed the commissioners in their determination not to approve any more roads for improvement, unless releases are signed, or the amounts to be paid are agreed upon before the work is started.

So far this year the county commissioners have had to expend $9,259.75 for damages caused to properties by the improvement of highways.

The teachers of Scott Township schools were entertained at a 7 o'clock dinner in the home of Prof. and Mrs. McCandless of Slippery Rock, the latter being the supervising principal of the schools on December 1. Informal games and other diversions whiled away the hours.

The following instructors and guests participated: Virgil Hockenberry, Helen Hutchinson, Luella Moorhead, Mrs. James Studebaker and Christine Welker.

Two Changes In 1934 Grid Rules Are Suggested

Would Allow Teams To Run With Fumbled Ball And Fumbled Punt

COACHES AGREE UPON CHANGES

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Staff Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—College football is overwhelmingly in favor of two major changes in the football code, effective next year, the revised football rules committee has discovered through the medium of a questionnaire, circulated among spokesmen for various sections of the country.

The first change, it was said, on the best of authority today, would return to football the run-with-the-fumble play by the defending team. The second would re-introduce: On the same basis, the run-with-the-fumbled punt. In other words, football, having had its fling at eccentricity over a period of the last five years, is about to go reactionary. These are not really changes, they're a reversion to old days and old ways, an amendment to the amendment or, in other words, repeal. Maybe you were out of town last night and didn't hear about that.

Almost Universal
Anyhow, the revised football rules committee has begged the question and now has its response, which was favorable through New England, the south, the far west and the Middle Atlantic states. Only the middle west, it seems, was tepid and, in some cases, actively negative.

Roughly speaking, the questionnaire brought up these points:

1. In the event of a fumble, should the defending team, in recovering the ball, be permitted to advance it beyond the point of recovery? (The answer was overwhelmingly "yes").

2. In the event of a fumbled kick, should the kicking team, in recovering the ball, be permitted to advance, etc., etc. (The answer again was overwhelmingly etc., etc., etc.)

3. In the case of a fumbled or mis-directed lateral pass, should the same privilege of advancing the ball be accorded both sides? (The answer this time was largely "no").

The reaction in this case is understandable in view of the late season tendency to use the lateral pass down-field or after the ball had been advanced beyond the line of scrimmage. Many teams were employing the lateral after a successful completion of a forward pass and often with effect. Under the present rules, a failure to complete the lateral still leaves the attacking team an equal chance to recover the ball and, in the event that the recovery in question is not made, the effect is even less damaging than an interception of a forward pass, since the ball cannot be advanced.

Hard Schedule For Wilmington

College Town High Boys To Play Difficult Floor Card

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 6.—With Assistant Coach Mauno Siljander of Westminster College back at the helm again after a temporary lay-off through the Thanksgiving vacation, practice sessions at the New Wilmington high school gym are being held nightly in preparation for the coming tilt with Franklin high school at Franklin on Friday night.

With the squad cut down to 20 players after an initial turnout of 35, the coaches have been able to turn their time to the development of green material. Ferris, a country lad with little basketball experience, is developing into one of the best guards on the squad. With a little more training he will be a decided asset to the team that won the championship of Lawrence county in '32. Borowicz, a lanky lad from the Sharon road, is shaping up well as a guard and will make some of the veterans look to their laurels.

Eagleson, floor general and midget forward of the college town lads, is living up to his name of being one of the best forwards of the county, and will be a threat to every team the local boys meet. Minner, a lanky sharpshooter, is improving daily and promises plenty of trouble for other county teams.

With two games of the schedule already played, Coach Whitman announces the following schedule:

December 8, Franklin High, at Franklin.

December 15, Mt. Jackson, at Mt. Jackson.

December 19, Shenango, at New Wilmington.

December 22, Union, at New Wilmington.

January 2, Oil City, at New Wilmington.

January 9, Bessemer, at Bessemer.

January 12, East Brook, at home.

January 16, Oil City, at Oil City.

January 19, Wampum, at Wampum.

February 2, Mt. Jackson, at home.

February 6, Union, at Union.

February 16, Wampum, at home.

February 17, Shenango, at Shenango.

March 2, East Brook, at East Brook.

March 6, Bessemer, at New Wilmington.

Coach Boyd Is Much Improved
The many friends of Coach David Morgan Boyd of Union high school, who was operated upon for appendicitis in the Johnstown Memorial hospital Sunday, will be glad to learn that Boyd has passed the crisis and is on the road to recovery. Word was received from Mrs. Boyd today saying that her husband will more than likely pull through his ailment. It was feared for a time that pneumonia would develop following the operation. Boyd will likely be confined in the hospital for two weeks or more.

Titan Court Stars Of Past Seasons Have Jobs Coaching

(Special To The News.)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 6.—To the fact that Notre Dame football players invariably land good coaching positions, add that Westminster college basketball stars of the past seven years are in demand as coaches and officials. Since John Lawther took over the coaching of the Titans in 1926, a large number of all-conference and all-district stars have been developed, and a large majority of these men have been successful in coaching.

Such stars as Hugh Gamble, John Connors, Tudor Lewis, Charles Ayers, William Crowell, Kenneth Delahunty, Babe O'Donovan, Phil Rice, Harry Brownlee, Michael Koceran, Marshall Fisher, John Hetra, Mauno Siljander, Gerald Newton, James McQuiston, to mention only a few, have carried Westminster to five tri-state championships and two runner-up posts in the last seven seasons.

Marsh Fisher, Boardman, O., lad who played guard from 1927 to 1931, is assistant football and basketball coach at senior high school, Johns-burgh, Pittsburgh, captain and star forward from 1927 to 1930, is head coach of football and basketball at the Freeport, N. Y., high school, where the former Titan star has won championships in both football and basketball.

Tudor Lewis, Farrell, captain and guard on the 1927 to 1929 teams, is a teacher in the junior high school at Farrell and is also coach. Lewis has been a member of independent court teams in the district where he continues to star. This year he plays with St. Michaels in the O. & P. league.

Phil Rice, captain and stellar guard who played on the Titan teams from 1928 to 1932, is a member of the district court officials' organization and plays independent ball, this year with the McKeesport

Hugh Gamble, captain and center on the 1927 team, is secretary of the Sharon Buhl club, and plays on independent teams in Mercer county. Harold "Red" Kelly, New Castle, is coach of football and basketball at Erie. Charles Ayers and Wayne Phillips are athletic coaches at schools near Warren and Bridgeville.

In the last seven seasons, Westminster has won 99 games and lost 20, has been tri-state champion five times and has been district champion four times.

Shenango High To Open Season
Centerville To Be Opponent At Shenango On Saturday Night

Shenango High School will find out what sort of basketball team it has Saturday night, December 9, when Centerville high school opens its season in the Shenango gymnasium. The Centerville team is coached by Paul Hoskins, formerly of New Castle.

Coach Ed Raney has been pounding along with his cagers for the past several weeks smoothing out some defects and expects to have the boys in shape for Saturday night's tilt.

Preliminary to the varsity game, the Shenango girls' basketball team will attempt to set down the Alumni girls in what promises to be a fast game. The first game opens at 7:30 o'clock.

New Wilmington
Curtis Shawkey was a recent business visitor in Sharon.

Richard Klumph of Jackson Center was a week end visitor in town. George McFarland is slightly improved after a severe attack of the grip.

Mrs. J. E. Dilley is slightly improved after a serious attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Norman Vance is recuperating slowly from the effects of a shattered hip suffered several weeks ago.

Russell McCormick has returned from a summer's visit in the state of California. He reports an interesting trip.

Hans Holm is still confined to his bed in the Jameson Memorial hospital following a recent attack of appendicitis.

W. H. Thompson is able to operate his business house again after a temporary absence caused by a broken ankle.

Miss Carrie Walte, a teacher in Jackson Center, was a guest at her parents' home on East Neshannock avenue, over the week end.

Perry Sewall, who is suffering from a severe case of pernicious anemia, underwent a third blood transfusion in as many weeks at the Jameson Memorial hospital on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Laura V. Crooks, merchant of New Wilmington for many years, is in a serious condition at her home on Market street. She contracted a cold on Thanksgiving day which has recently developed into pneumonia.

Mrs. Walt Whitman proved herself a very competent hostess when she feted the members of the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church at her home on Market street on Tuesday evening. At an appropriate hour the hostess served a delightful luncheon.

Several deer hunters from New Wilmington were fortunate enough to bag themselves a "buck" during the first days of the new season. John Vance bagged a six-point in the wilds of Clearfield county on the first day. Norman Black sniped a seven-point, 150-pound deer at 8:30 in the morning of the first day.

Willis, John "Hickory" Hetra of Farrell, star on teams from 1923 to 1926, is a teacher in Farrell high school and is one of the outstanding football and basketball officials in the district. Hetra also plays independent baseball.

Bill Crowell, West Middlesex, star center on Titan teams from 1926 to 1931, is head coach of football and basketball at Mercer high school where he has made a good showing. Kenneth Delahunty, another star teammate of Crowell's on the 1927 to 1930 outfits, is head coach of football and basketball at Sandy Lake high school. Both men are members of the faculties of these schools.

Harry Brownlee, center and leading scorer on teams from 1929 to 1932, is a member of the Akron Goodyear team. Michael Koceran, honor student and star forward on Tri-State conference championship teams, is in his second year at Harvard law school. Gerald Newton of New Wilmington, star forward who was graduated last June, is a member of the junior court officials' organization, and will handle games in this section. Mauno "Whitey" Siljander, Pittsburgh, co-captain with Newton last year, is also a member of the officials' organization and is assisting with the coaching of the New Wilmington high school basketball team.

Layden-Harpster Laud Choice Of Columbia Eleven

Pittsburgh Coaches Think Stanford Picked Fine Team To Play In Rose Bowl

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—Elmer Layden and Howard Harpster, Duquesne university and Carnegie Tech football coaches, today indicated approval of the selection of Columbia university to represent the east in the annual Tournament of Roses at Pasadena on New Year's day.

Layden, one of Notre Dame's "four horsemen", said:

"Lou Little is a smart coach. While I haven't seen the team play this year, I believe it gets little boys playing at top form. Columbia can be expected to uphold its end of the battle."

Harpster, Carnegie Tech's youthful mentor, thinks Columbia is a "logical choice" as Stanford's opponent. He said:

"Since Princeton refused to consider a Rose bowl invitation, Columbia, which suffered its only loss at the hands of the undefeated, untied Tigers, appears as the logical choice of the east for the game."

Coach John B. "Jock" Sutherland of the University of Pittsburgh was out of the city and could not be reached for comment.

Market Moves To Higher Ground

Trading Is Brisk And Profit Taking Is Quickly Absorbed In Market

U. S. STEEL IS STEADY TODAY

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The stock market moved into new high ground for the recovery today with gains in the principal issues running to more than a point. Trading was brisk and such profit taking as did appear was well absorbed.

The commodity markets, however, were beset by profit taking and with the exception of wheat were unable to make any headway in the forenoon.

Railroad shares as a group were in demand throughout the forenoon with New York Central, Union Pacific, Atchison and Southern Railway gaining from fractions to a point on a large turnover.

The utilities also appeared to be receiving a better grade of support. Consolidated Gas, American Water Works, and Northern American were well taken from fractions to a point over yesterday's closing price.

United States Steel, American Can, and other industrial shares were steady in the face of profit taking. Chemical shares were again strong under the lead of Allied Chemical and DuPont.

Liquor shares were easy with National Distillers and Schenley losing nearly a point each.

There was little in the news to provide fresh stimulus to trading for the advance. Failure of the R. F. C. to make a change in the gold price held the gold mining shares down. Steel reviews were mildly optimistic.

Winick Is Held For Court Trial

Hearing Is Held Before Alderman As Result Of Auto Accident

Paul Winick, charged with assault and battery with an automobile was held for court Tuesday night by Alderman James C. Brice in ball of $500, following a hearing in the case preferred by Carl E. Wallace, a city policeman. The case arises out of a collision at the corner of Blaine and Wallace avenue November 25 when the truck of Winick's hit the pleasure car driven by Mrs. Carl E. Wallace, overturning her car and sending her to the hospital.

Oddly enough, the defendant in the case was represented by District Attorney John S. Powers. The case will not be tried in the county court until March when Mr. Powers will be out of office and for that reason he took the case through the alderman's court for his client.

Mrs. Wallace, Alberta Horchler and Lillian Dorsey testified that they were riding in the Wallace car on the night of November 25 and came down Blaine street to Wallace at Wallace testified Mrs. Wallace slowed down and they all noticed a car down about Young street. Just before Mrs. Wallace's car cleared Wallace avenue the truck hit it overturning it. Mrs. Wallace was injured about the head and arms and was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital. The other passengers were injured slightly.

Powers asked that the case be dismissed but the alderman held Winick for court.

A cross suit in which Winick charges Mrs. Wallace with assault and battery with an automobile and reckless driving has been lodged before Alderman R. R. Lewis and will be heard Saturday night.

MEANING THE BRIDGE?

Wurtemburg, Dec. 5, '33.

Mr. Fred L. Rentz:

Dear Sir:—
Was in your city the other day and had occasion to drive out West Washington street. After crossing the railroad, entered the Sarcophagus at that place and by skillful driving, reached the other side in peace and safety. This is sure the Arc-de-Triumph in architecture! Somewhat resembles the sunken gardens of ancient Babylon! This should be dedicated by having Horatius at the bridge recited at one end and Grays Elegy at the other, with the battle of Hoh-En Linden, Thanatopsis, Arnold Von Winkelreid and Bingen on the Rhine recited in a calm voice by some distinguished elocutionist in the center of the Cenotaph. Then during the obsequies there should be a photograph taken of it and carefully embalmed so that future posterity might gaze upon the beauties of this mausoleum; after which the entire crowd might sing My Country 'Tis of Thee and a consecrated cross-eyed bear. Selah.

Yours very truly,
GEO. W. GIBBONS,
Ellwood City, Pa., R. D. 1.
